

BUSINESS INTELLIGENCE

Hospitals are under the gun to deliver high performance results in a fast-changing environment. Leaders must enable the business by using analytics and business intelligence to lower costs, improve healthcare outcomes, and increase patient satisfaction rates.

Healthcare systems have access to more data than most other industries. So why hasn't more been accomplished? Despite your organization's efforts to implement electronic medical records and harness external data, much of it is still unmanageable based on the siloed nature of the data sources.

The world of data analytics and business intelligence is moving quickly, but most healthcare institutions are not moving fast enough. To win you need talented experts who possess the right skills, knowledge, and experience that your facility may lack.

BRINGING IT ALL TOGETHER

Whether you are trying to gain better visibility, improve satisfaction, streamline scheduling, or to reduce the cost of care, accessing the data and acting on it is difficult. Data related technology has become more effective, and leading tools like Tableau and Microsoft's Power BI have made it possible to source and visualize data in real time, allowing you to make high impact decisions.

Without experts, however, the tools alone are of little help. Harmony Healthcare employs experts who work with Tableau and Microsoft's Power BI tools to help your organization realize the value of its business intelligence and data analytics investments.
